In accordance with the Bail Reform Act, 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f), a detention hearing has been held. I conclude that the following facts are established by a preponderance of the evidence or clear and convincing evidence and require the detention of the above-named defendant pending trial in this case.

[ ] (3) A period of not more than five years has elapsed since the (date of conviction) (release of the defendant from imprisonment) for the offense described in finding 1.

[X] (5) I find that there is no condition or combination of conditions set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(c) which will reasonably assure the safety of any other person or the community.

Written Statement of Reasons for Detention

I find that the accusations in the indictment and the information obtained in the submitted in the Pretrial Services Agency report establish by a preponderance of the evidence that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required and by clear and convincing evidence that no conditions will assure the safety of the community.

I conclude that the following factors specified in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) are present and are to be taken into account:

1. Defendant Fritz Hambrick is a 40 year old male born in Pasadena, Texas. He lives in Alvin, Texas with his wife and their nine year old child.
2. Hambrick is charged with drug trafficking charges, including conspiracy to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine, and three counts of possession with intent to distribute of 5 grams or more of methamphetamine. The conspiracy charge carries a penalty of not less than ten years and not more than life imprisonment and/or a $4,000,000 fine and at least five years supervised release.
3. At the time of his arrest, Hambrick was on state probation for fraudulent use and possession of identification documents. Hambrick was non-compliant with the terms of his probation by failing to report, missing curfew checks, not completing community service, and failing two drug screenings. State officials intend to revoke his probation.
4. At the time of his arrest, officers discovered drugs in Hambrick's home. Hambrick's wife testified that she did not know he was using drugs and was not aware of drugs in the home. It does not appear to the court that she exercises sufficient control and influence over Hambrick to ensure that he will appear in court as required.
5. Hambrick has not rebutted the statutory presumptions that he is a flight risk and a danger to the community.
6. There is no condition or combination of conditions of release which would assure the appearance of the defendant in court or the safety of the community. Detention is ordered.

Directions Regarding Detention

It is therefore ORDERED that the defendant is committed to the custody of the Attorney General or his designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility shall deliver the defendant to the United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with all court proceedings.
